

ONE-DAY TRAINING OSINT FOR TRADE UNIONS

Methodology:

Trade unions are expected to add value to a workplace and support their members appropriately. Trade union research officers assist the strategic development of trade unions by collecting, analysing and circulating information on social, economic and political issues. You work on joint projects with other agencies, dealing with everyday issues that affect working life and social justice. Your role will span the whole process of identifying issues to exploring, gathering research, analysis, writing up results, delivering a report or briefing, and circulating information within and outside the union. In this one-day course, our trainer will demonstrate OSINT techniques to assist your Union work.

Audience:

Up to 20 participants, this training is suitable for Trade Union Representatives, Research Officers, Public Relations Officers, Equality & Diversity Officers, Membership Officers and others working within a Union who conduct online research.

Objectives:

- Introduce & demonstrate OSINT techniques that can assist a trade union.
- Understand how monitoring social media can assist in disciplinary procedures and protecting members reputation.

Learning Outcomes: delegates will acquire:

- An awareness of the scale of information available to a trade union from social media.
- Knowledge of OSINT techniques in the identification of criminal and discipline activities concerning a trade union member.
- Understanding of various tactics deployed to gather research to protect members interests.
